

Protecting M365 Data

Set up and scale fast - what may have taken days in the past, will now take hours. No hardware, no upfront professional services costs, no management overhead, no complex licensing models.

A powerful, self-service portal eliminates vendor bottlenecks - leaving you free to deploy, manage and scale Microsoft 365 protection quickly and easily (24/7 support remains on hand if required).

If you choose to protect your wider estate with Redstor too, you can manage your Microsoft 365 data via a single control centre as part of a centralised data management solution. Get backup and recovery, archiving, DR and Search and Insight from a single vendor on a unified platform.

Our automated portal offers a single place to view and manage cloud and on-prem data, saving on time and operational overheads.
